DETAILED ACTION

Examiner acknowledges response by applicant's representative received 6/1/06.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ozaki et al. (658).

Ozaki discloses a Pattern Display Device And Game machine including The Same.

Regarding claims 1-6

Ozaki teaches a display device that is LCD [0138], a variable display device means in the form of rotatable reels with symbols (30a-30c), a light guiding plate (25) with a light source (26), a rear window comprising a window (2) through which patterns may be observed. Said patterns being deflected through a three layered integrated structure via small openings on the initial layer thereby reducing the density by the time it reaches the final layer (see [0042]-[0045] & [0136] –[0139] and illumination means in the form of cold-cathode tubes (fluorescent tubes) (29).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/1/06 have been fully considered.

Applicant argues that the cited reference lacked the teaching of the light guiding plate formed with a first light deflecting pattern on a periphery of the light transmission area and is formed with a second light deflection pattern in a portion more distant from the light transmission area than the first light deflection pattern. ^{Ed}

Regarding the limitation of the 1st light pattern being denser ^{than} ~~that~~ the second light pattern, Ozaki et al. show a 1st light pattern from light source 9 and a second pattern from light source 26 in figure 28. Examiner is interpreting the 1st light pattern to be more dense since it appears that the pattern reflects off reel 2 a shorter distance than the light pattern that reflects off guide element 25. ^{than}

Regarding the 2nd light pattern being more distant from the light transmission area than the 1st light pattern, in figure 28, the examiner interprets element 9 as a light transmission area wherein the second pattern is more distant than the 1st pattern as claimed.

The rejection is therefore maintained and made final.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure and are cited to show the state of art with respect to features of the claimed invention.
